Personal Space

I like talking to my friends.

My friends like talking to me.

My friends don't like it when I stand too close to them.

When I talk to my friends, I leave some space between us.

This makes my friends happy.

